WELCOME TO ISSUE 5!

HI, IT'S MAX!
WE'RE BUILDING FESTIVE STARS IN THIS ISSUE! YOU AND YOUR FAMILY CAN MAKE SOME TOO!

BEST OF ALL, THE STARS YOU MAKE CAN HELP BRING PLAY TO ANOTHER CHILD! ASK A GROWN-UP TO GO TO LEGO.COM/BUILDTOGIVE TO FIND OUT MORE!

BETTER NOT HIT SANTA WITH THIS SNOWBALL, OR NO GIFTS THIS YEAR!

HERE ARE SOME MORE BRICKS FOR YOU, MAX!

READY FOR A PARTY?

HI! I'M GETTING READY FOR MY BIG FESTIVE PARTY. I'LL EVEN BE TALKING TO SOME OF MY FRIENDS FROM FAR AWAY THROUGH MY COMPUTER.

OF COURSE, THE LAST TIME I TRIED THIS, THINGS KIND OF WENT WRONG.

I SOMEHOW WOUND UP TALKING TO OTHER MAXES FROM THE PAST AND THE FUTURE! STRANGE, HUH?

BUT THAT COULDN'T HAPPEN THIS TIME!

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK OF THIS MAGAZINE!

Ask a parent or guardian to scan this code or visit LEGO.com/LIFESURVEY to take the survey right away!

Cup Through the Table Trick

Here's a magic trick you can do to amaze your family and friends. (Make sure to practice first before doing it for an audience).

What You Need:

- A plastic or paper cup
- A small object, like a coin or a ball
- A piece of paper big enough to cover the cup
- A table

How It's Done:

1 Sit down on the opposite side of a table from your audience. Tell them that the table is solid and the object (for example, the ball) is going to pass right through the table and end up underneath it.

2 Put the ball on the table and cover it with the cup.

3 Place the paper over the cup.

4 Then put the paper over the cup and wrap it around, as if you were wrapping a gift. When you're done, the paper should be in the same shape as the cup.

5 Lift the cup and bring it towards you, with the paper still around it, to show the audience the ball. While they are looking at that, let the cup drop from inside the paper into your lap. (Be careful to hold the cup lower than the edge of the table so people won't see it drop.)

6 Put the paper, still in the shape of the cup, back over the ball.

7 Bring your hand down and crumple the paper flat.

8 Lift up the paper to show the ball is still there, but the cup is gone. "Oops," you say, "how did that happen?"

9 Reach under the table and reveal that the cup "passed through" a solid object.

LEGO STAR WARS BATTLES

VIDEO GAME TIPS & TRICKS

TIP '1: AIR UNITS

The Probe Droid and the Duros Alliance Fighter are Air Units, meaning they can fly and can't be damaged by Flame Towers.

TIP '2: TERRITORY CAPTURE

Building towers pushes your territory area forward so you can place troops closer to the enemy base. Holding both rear towers creates a larger territory area than holding just one.

TIP '3: STRIKES

Strikes like TIE Fighter and the Y-wing strike are excellent for clearing out groups of troops closely huddled together. They're also brilliant for knocking down towers that have already been damaged.

TIP '4: ENERGY

The key to winning is to use your energy efficiently. Stop tough opposing troops with a simple maneuver and you'll gain an energy advantage.

YOUNG BUILDERS TEAM UP TO KEEP IT MOVING!

Is it possible to move a 43-ton Volvo Articulated Hauler using only LEGO® Technic™ elements? A group of young builders from across the globe think they can do it and they have been working hard to make it happen!

That's a Lot of Pieces!

This incredible project took an amazing amount of time (and LEGO® pieces!) to do:

- Over 233,000 LEGO Technic™ elements, plus multiple CONTROL+ XL motors
- 500 meters of connecting wire and cable
- Almost 16 days of design work
- More than two months of actual model building

The Project

Earlier this year, the LEGO Technic team challenged four FIRST® LEGO League teams to create something that could move a real-life Volvo Articulated Hauler. (FIRST LEGO League is a global competition where teams compete to design the best robot using LEGO Technic and LEGO MINDSTORMS® elements.)

LEGO fans from Africa, Asia, Europe and North America joined up with Volvo and LEGO engineers to make it happen. The team also included an astronaut, whose job was to help with remote communication and engineering. Working across time zones, they combined their creativity and imagination to tackle this enormous task.

Getting Started

Being chosen to be a part of this project was a big moment for Hamzah, age 13, from the USA. "I thought this was going to be hard and be a tough challenge," he said. "But I was actually really excited and pretty much lost for words."

Each FIRST LEGO League team was made of up seven young people, all experienced in building and inventing. The project started off with the engineers and the four teams of builders coming up with lots of ideas for how this job might be done. After that, they turned those ideas into models so they could test and learn from them.

A Challenging Task

Along the way, the young builders had to face many obstacles. As the leader of his team, Haruto, age 13, from Japan, discovered important lessons about being in charge. "My biggest challenge was to lead our team, because our team members are very unique... I learned that the best thing for a leader is to listen to all the ideas and select the best way to go."

Getting Inspired

For Harriet, age 11, from Nigeria, working on this project helped her discover that distance does not have to get in the way of getting something done.

"Taking part has helped me to realize that people all over the world have similar thinking and beliefs," she said. "It really made me see that, despite where you are, people can collaborate."

"Even though it seems impossible to do things like this," said Amidala, age 16, from Sweden, "it is possible to do stuff that seems impossible and have fun."

What could you create with your friends? Keep building and find out!

The teams succeeded in moving the Volvo Articulated Hauler a full 50 meters!
