Q LEGO® Builder

Construire la sérénité

Laissez-vous transporter dans un jardin serein et paisible et restez-y aussi longtemps que vous le souhaitez. Peut-être vous donnera-t-il envie de cultiver vos racines créatives ou votre petit espace personnel réservé à des activités de pleine conscience et de réflexion. Ceci est votre espace. Nous espérons que vous vous sentirez comme chez vous parmi les plantes et animaux qui prospèrent près de la fontaine. Vous en reconnaîtrez peut-être certains, vous dans votre propre jardin ou dans un lieu familier que vous avez visité lors d'un voyage vers la destination de vos rêves, dont vous chérissez les souvenirs précieux.

Chaque élément a été conçu pour être le plus authentique possible par rapport à la région, à la culture et à l'architecture. Les magnifiques tuiles décoratives s'inspirent des tuiles zellige, qui ont influencé les traditions architecturales en Afrique du Nord et en Europe du Sud au cours de l'histoire. Elles apportent une atmosphère magnifiquement vivante aux bâtiments, à la décoration intérieure et aux jardins. Nous avons également décidé d'ajouter un nouvel élément à la collection de papillons nocturnes et diurnes LEGO® avec le papillon lune espagnol, un papillon de nuit d'un vert envoûtant. Vous pouvez insuffler une nouvelle vie à votre jardin en déplaçant les plantes à différents endroits selon votre humeur, en les exposant au soleil ou en les laissant se rafraîchir à l'ombre. Vous pouvez même déplacer des sections plus grandes du modèle pour créer différentes formes et expressions.

« Donnez vie à ce jardin andalou idyllique, et ajoutez tout au long de l'année une touche estivale à votre intérieur. »

Les pièces décorées créées pour ce set s'inspirent du style de carrelage en mosaïque appelé zellige. On les retrouve fréquemment dans l'architecture de sites et monuments historiques anciens, notamment au Maroc, en Algérie, en Tunisie et dans la région andalouse du sud de l'Espagne.

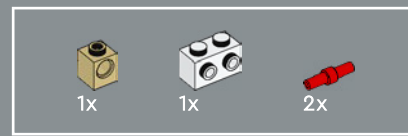

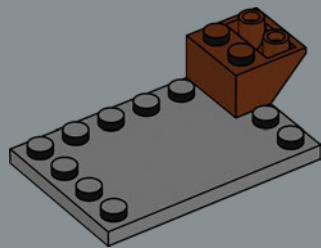

35

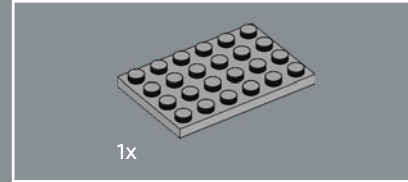

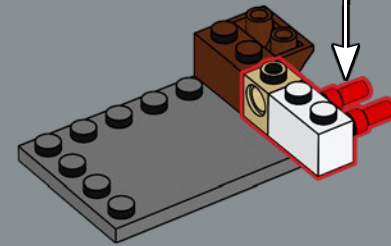

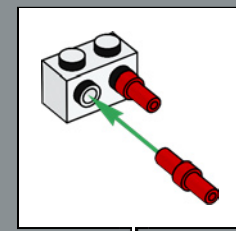

Ces tuiles permettent de créer des motifs qui peuvent être répétés à l'infini, selon la technique de la mosaïque. Combien de motifs différents pouvez-vous créer ?

Fleur d'hibiscus rouge (Hibiscus rosa-sinensis)
Les fleurs d'hibiscus peuvent être utilisées pour tester l'acidité d'un liquide. Une fleur d'hibiscus devient rose foncé si elle est exposée à l'acide, ou verte si elle est exposée à un produit basique. Idéal pour vérifier l'acidité de votre fontaine !

Fleur de bougainvillier rose (Bougainvillea)
 Ce que la plupart des gens considèrent comme la « fleur » du bougainvillier correspond en réalité à des bractées ou de « fausses fleurs », un autre type de feuille qui entoure les véritables fleurs de la plante, qui sont minuscules.

Pétunia blanc (Petunia axillaris)
 Bien que certaines espèces de pétunias puissent être utilisées en garniture de vos plats, vous préférerez peut-être laisser cette splendeur s'épanouir dans votre jardin. Il appartient à une famille de plantes qui comprend également la pomme de terre, la tomate, mais aussi la belladone !

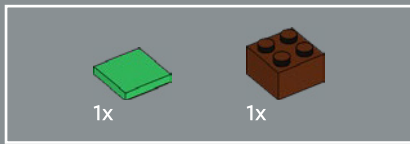

190

Géranium zonal rouge (Pelargonium x hortorum)
 Le géranium zonal parfumé a un usage à la fois pratique et esthétique dans un jardin serein. Ses huiles naturelles dégagent un parfum qui fait fuir les insectes !

Isabelle (Graellsia isabellae)
 Espèce étonnante qui possède des ailes vertes et des ocelles uniques, l'Isabelle prospère dans les Pyrénées. Vestige vivant d'une époque ancienne, elle est restée quasiment inchangée depuis la dernière ère glaciaire.

217

Céillet d'Inde (Tagetes patula)
Bien qu'ils soient originaires d'Amérique centrale, les céillets d'Inde sont de petits rayons de soleil aromatiques appréciés des jardiniers et des chefs du monde entier qui les utilisent pour décorer leurs plats ou ajouter une touche acidulée à leurs desserts sucrés.
